

March 8, 1968

Dear Margaret,

The copy of the letters came out badly on the machine I have available at this time. Spanish paper is too thin and their ribbons need changing!! So I am enclosing a typed copy of the correspondence, as well as a note I sent you on December 10th, which I gather you never received, and which I had forgotten I sent.

It seems a shame to me that CASTALIA does not want to do the Variant Edition at this time, but I do hope it will work out in the future. Meantime, I hope you will be interested in doing a definitive version, as they suggest in paragraph 4 of their letter of December 2nd.

Let me know what you think. If you write to Amparo Soler, as I trust you will, you might drop me a copy of the letter and ask her to do likewise when she answers, so that I can keep track of how things are moving along. Anyway, I do hope something good will result from all of this. Meantime, I shall write to my friend Vergara in Barcelona, (Editor for the Chilean publishers POMAIRE) to see if he has any suggestions about your Variant Edition.

See you soon, and much love,

D.
